Description: My husky named Luna has gone missing this morning and has not return. She has ran off before but always come back after a little while, which is why we believe she has been stolen. She a 5 year old black and white husky with icy blue eyes and a black 'eyebrow' mark over her left eye. She does not have a collar on since I only put it on when we go out on walks or somewhere. She does have a flea collar on. Luna has epilepsy and will have a seizures when is scared and/or is separated from me for too long! She has separation anxiety!!

Please if you know anything or have seen her please let me know. I am going crazy not knowing where my baby girl is!

If you stole her please return her to me! She can't be away from my family and me for too long or she'll have seizures!!
